

BY ASHLEE PIPER

Many of us consider our furry friends family, and a vacation just wouldn't be the same without them. These hotels allow dogs and cats of all breeds and sizes (plus, in some cases, other critters)—at no extra charge.

best in show

Soho Grand Hotel, New York
Explore one of Manhattan's trendiest neighborhoods at this boutique hotel where you can arrange for pet-sitting and -walking, as well as spa services. Additional amenities include a dedicated dog park (complete with hydrant water stations) and organic pet treats.
sohogrand.com

El Portal Sedona Hotel, Sedona, Ariz.
With 1,000 square feet of fenced patio and paw-friendly hardwood and tile floors throughout, this lodge-style retreat was built with four-legged guests in mind. Enjoy breathtaking desert landscapes by hiking the many pet-friendly trails in the nearby Coconino National Forest.

elportalsedona.com

The Jefferson, Washington, DC
This posh hotel rolls out the red carpet for canines, felines, and the people who love them. Comfy beds, treats made with human-grade ingredients, and a listing of pet-friendly must-sees in and around the nation's capital all cater to critters.
jeffersondc.com

The Edgewater Hotel, Seattle
Situating on pristine Elliott Bay, the Edgewater has a history of stellar guests including The Beatles. Pet-centered packages offer special meals, pet beds, plus a $10 donation to the Puget Sound Greyhound Adoption Organization.
edgewaterhotel.com

The Eliot Hotel, Boston
This stately hotel welcomes pets with open paws and complimentary food bowls during their stay. Take your animal companion along on the city's Freedom Trail tour, or arrange with the concierge for professional pet-sitting.
eliothotel.com

PURR-FECT PLANNING

LuxuryPAW This full-service travel agency and concierge can set you up with distinctive pet-friendly excursions here and abroad.
luxurypaw.com

Go Pet Friendly offers city guides, a DIY road trip planner, and links to nearby attractions and services such as animal-friendly parks and veterinarians.
gopetfriendly.com

BONUS POINTS

Every boutique hotel in the nationwide Kimpton Hotels chain allows animals of all kinds, charges no additional fees, and offers such perks as plush beds and fresh snacks for your pet.
kimptonhotels.com

ILLUSTRATION: ONOYES; PHOTO COURTESY THE JEFFERSON, WASHINGTON, DC